We are grateful that EPRO contributed to the event which was unprecedented in Polish science. Thanks to sponsors such as EPRO, we have successfully organised the first remote biotechnology conference that brings together young life science enthusiasts from all over the world and, more importantly, has been well received.

Once again, we would like to thank EPRO for being among the sponsors of the 9th Inter-University Biotechnology Symposium "Symbiosis". We fully appreciate that you care about the development of Polish biotechnology, which in these difficult times is extremely important and worthy of our gratitude.
